

Leilani Neighborhood Watch Newsletter January 2009

Happy New Year !, We certainly hope that everyone had a great Christmas with family and friends and that you are re-charged and ready for this new 2009 year.

Leilani Estate has fortunately been real quiet thru the holidays. We had (2) long-term Watch volunteers retire leaving us short-handed going into this new year so we need everyone's help to recruit some new volunteers. Please email ---leilaniwatch@live.com

We have our semi-annual community BBQ coming up the end of February (Sunday Feb 28 suggested) We will confirm the actual time and date at our meeting next week and will advise that in our next newsletter, so tentatively mark your calendars !

The Neighborhood Watch adopted the Community Center book library and thanks to the hard work of Linda Woertendyke the books have been re-arranged in alphabetical order by author to assist users in locating their favorite material. Check it out and continue to drop off and exchange books at the center in the mornings.

Along with a new bulletin board in the Community Center parking lot there has been a 'suggestion box' added to that structure to improve communication between residents and the Leilani board members so we can better our community. Let the board members know where improvements are needed or of any other concerns you may have !
